

Contents

Introduction . . . . .	3
Alessandro Porrovecchio
Doing sex research: History, methods and ethical criticalities . . . . .	6
Alessandro Porrovecchio
Social transaction: A relevant paradigm for the sociology of sexuality and gender? . . . . .	23
Christophe Gibout
Reflections on methods in research in sex and sexuality with disabled people . . . . .	39
Emma Sheppard
Researching trans people: Ethics through method . . . . .	53
Christina Richards
Conducting ethical sexuality research with children and young people: Tensions, ambiguities and contradictions . . . . .	65
Allison Moore
Researching sexuality and drug addiction . . . . .	80
Gabriele Di Francesco
The sociologist as cruiser: Masculinities, deviance and sexuality in gay sex work arenas . . . . .	96
Cirus Rinaldi
Between ethics and norms: The problem of normative perceptions of sex and sexuality research . . . . .	112
Paul Reynolds
Notes on Contributors . . . . .	126